Titan Health Corporation Partnership Results in Happy Physician Owners

October, 2006 | Pittsburgh, PA

Titan Health Corporation, a nationwide surgery center development, acquisition and management company, is pleased to announce the opening of Gamma Surgery Center in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. The center will perform advanced spine and neurosurgery cases as well as interventional pain medicine procedures. First case was performed on Wednesday, September 27th.

Gamma Surgery Center is housed in a 5,500 square-foot building and contains three ORs/procedure rooms, pre- and post-operative recovery space and state-of-the-art equipment. The center is state licensed and Medicare certified.

In his own words, Dr. Paul Lieber, one of Gamma's founding partners, enthusiastically stated, "My experience with Titan in the development and implementation of our ASC has been the best possible experience. They have brought the highest quality personnel to the table. Everything they have done has been first rate. Their orientation has been to enable the physician to practice their specialty in a way that could only be dreamt about. They have made opening our ASC a seamless experience."

Dr. Marc Adelsheimer, one of Gamma Surgery Center's other physician partners, agrees. "Partnering with Titan was the best decision we made."
